Record Crowd of Teachers Predicted for This Fall.

WANTS AID OF ROTARY CLUB

Pinet Addresses Noon Meeting of Rotarians.

Womer Tells Chances of Washburn Properly Supported.

Predictions based on early returns of the largest state teachers' convention in the history of Kansas were made today noon by F. L. Pinet, secretary of the State Teachers' association, at the regular bi-monthly meeting of the Topeka Rotary club at Pelletier's tea room. The total attendance, Mr. Pinet believes, will be 7,000.

Right now, more than a week before the meeting, 3,500 teachers have enrolled at his office, while last year on the day before the convention opened the total enrollment was only 2,900. Mr. Pinet urged that the Topeka Rotary club join the association. This is possible now as a result of the arrangement of parallel entertainments, possible because of the generosity of the Topeka commercial club in supplying $2,000 for bringing speakers and other attractions to Topeka for the big convention.

Other addresses were made by P. P. Womer, president of Washburn college, and Samuel Wilson of the American city bureau, who is conducting a campaign of education on commercial club work among the business men of Topeka. Charles Eldridge made a few remarks before presenting E. W. Rankin with a silver drinking cup and making a motion, passed unanimously, electing Mr. Rankin an honorary member of the Topeka Rotary club. Mr. Rankin is a charter member of the Topeka Rotary club.

President Womer, in a lengthy address, explained the possibilities of Washburn with sufficient money to employ and keep a big faculty. He suggested that the club establish a scholarship for the college. With a full endowment fund, President Womer declared that Washburn college could enroll 1,200 students in the next few years.

Mr. Wilson urged the co-operation of the Rotary club with the Topeka Commercial club. Cities are made by the men in them, he declared, not because of their raw resources. "For what other reason," asked Mr. Wilson, "is Detroit an automobile center when the raw materials needed come from Pittsburgh and Birmingham?" He told of other cities which have become wealthy and famous for no other reason than the genius of one man backed by the co-operation of the business men of the cities.

A wonderful soprano voice came into its own today noon at the bi-monthly meeting of the Topeka Rotary club at Pelletier's tea room. Miss Florence Rowe of North Topeka, captivated the Rotarians with the quality of her soprano singing.

Two young women sang with Ray Lester, Paul Van Ness, M. S. Mikesell and Hugh A. Smith. Their rendition of the "Settlers from Lucia," captivated the Rotarians and drew round after round of applause.

Holland's Preparedness. Holland having seen the fate of Belgium in the great war began to mend his easy-going military ways.

One of her early acts, however, might cause a twinkle in the eyes of any one in the least familiar with German knowledge of invaded territory, for the Dutch, in the invasion of their unwilling hearts, pulled down all crossroads gateposts in the strategic part of the country. Contemplate the dilemma and dismay of a German army in darkest Holland with no signposts to guide it!—World's Work.

Fashion's Fancies

A wag declares "that women are wearing high collars in order to hide their blushes for their short skirts."

But a pretty face peeping from a bit of fur will probably smile sweetly in derision.

The new fashions are becoming and if they are different—why that simply means the modes are not bound by conventions.

News of fashion is always interesting news to the fair sex and when the news contain information as to where things may be seen and what they cost it becomes vital.

That is why so many women are readers of the advertising in The Topeka State Journal.

Several years ago she entered the office of a Wall street concern as assistant statistician, at a salary of $3 per week. Cotton has been her specialty from the start and so remarkable has been her success that today she commands a salary of $10,000 per year.

Captain Hirsch said he first saw the submarine about 11 o'clock at night and that it was not more than 600 feet away.

It circled the Osterdal, he said, but did not give any signal.

Elephant Stealing.

It would seem that an elephant would be about the last thing in the world a man would be able to steal. Yet in Siam one must keep a careful watch on such elephants as he may own, no matter what their size, lest they be stolen from him.

Elephant stealing in Siam is always been more or less prevalent, and for some time past has been a source of much anxiety to the officials. Regulations were drawn up about fifteen years ago by the British and Siamese authorities, with a view to the suppression of this offense. Later these were supplemented by additional regulations, embodying definite rules for the purchase and sale of elephants, and imposing penalties on all persons in possession of elephants who are not provided with sale papers properly executed before the local authorities.

Notwithstanding all these precautions elephant stealing continues in Siam, and in one year alone fifty elephants were stolen from British foresters, representing a loss of some $45,000.

The Karen tribesmen are the chief offenders; but, tho their somewhat inaccessible villages are well known to the near known, or district official, in no single instance has the assistance rendered by the Siamese officials led to the discovery of the elephant stolen and the thief in short, recovery, when effected, has been due to the activity and energy of the British foresters and the searching parties sent out by the British companies who employ the foresters.—Los Angeles Times Illustrated Weekly.

Gun Fire Effect on Animals.

A German veterinary surgeon has made some curious and interesting observations upon the psychological effect produced on animals by the noise of a gun. He considered the horses and dogs used for military purposes, and the game in the area of warfare. Soon after the war it was noticed that large number of horses and especially the military band animals, tried beyond the seat of hostilities.

The wild boar, the badger, the bear, red deer and roebuck followed, but strange to say, the hare, whose timidity is proverbial, refused to leave its lair. In this case, the animal remained unfrightened while the saloon, sparrow-hawks and crows.—Popular Science Monthly.

THIS IS "PEP" DAY

Two Hundred Washburn Students to Emporia Game.

Something May Happen in Topeka This Evening.

Today is "pep" day at Washburn and more enthusiasm will be unleashed at the college than ever before in the history of the school.

At a big meeting this noon it was announced that more than 200 people had signed up to go on the special train to Emporia for the Washburn-Normal football game Friday. Following speeches by Coach Kennedy, "Blondy" Trobert, football captain two years ago; Elmer Beare, high school football coach, and Mrs. Womer, wife of Washburn's "Prexy," the chapel roof was nearly blown off with a solid quarter of an hour of cheering.

Three "pep" meetings were scheduled today, a record in the history of Washburn rooting. The second meeting was held out on the football bleachers at 2 o'clock this afternoon, the team going thru its last practice to the tune of cheering by a "Hallelujah chorus" of nearly 500 Washburn boys and girls.

The third meeting will be held in Washburn gymnasium tonight around a bonfire and unlimited gallons of cider. In response to calls for contributions to the cider fund made this noon, enough money was speedily raised to insure the presence of sixty gallons of the Kansas national drink.

School will be dismissed at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. Special cars will convey the two hundred or more students who will accompany the team to Emporia for the Santa Fe station, where a special train will take them to Emporia.

New signatures to the list of those who will accompany the team were being received all afternoon and it is believed that Washburn will be represented at the Normal game by the largest rooters' delegation that has ever gone to an out of town game.

WANTED HIS SHARE

Farmer Boy Willing to Fight for Estate After Father's Remarks.

The combination of a young son, a stepmother and $40,000 worth of undivided property started a disturbance at the home of W. L. Redenbaugh east of town Wednesday afternoon and led to a general alarm for the sheriff's force.

Redenbaugh complained that his 22-year-old son, Don Redenbaugh, had threatened to kill him and he asked that the boy be locked up.

"He says," said the father, "that he will shoot the first officer that interferes with him so be careful."

Charles Hixon, deputy sheriff, went to the Redenbaugh home. The boy was not there. He had walked away from the house in a field. Hixon followed him up and when he caught sight of him called to him. Redenbaugh answered the summons and made no trouble whatever.

Hixon was preparing to bring him to the county jail when the father released him. "I can't bear the thought of him spending the night in the county jail," he said. "If he will only go away and leave me alone I won't have him arrested."

"The boy was agreeable and was to leave for Kansas City today to seek employment. He told the county officers his troubles. It was stated today that the boy has been demanding his share of his mother's interest in the estate. His mother died three years ago and a year ago his father married his housekeeper. The boy says there has been trouble regularly since he became of age and his father gave him a stepmother."

Milk From Soy Beans.

Milk made from the Chinese from the small yellow beans from which bean curd and soy are also made is shown by analysis to have a specific gravity of 1.029 and a fat content of 3.125 contrasted with a specific gravity of 1.029 and a fat content of 3.9 for good average cow's milk, and to the eye looks exactly like unskimmed cow's milk. The fat has an odor of raw beans, it is said to be not unpleasant to the taste. A factory for the manufacture of this product on a commercial scale is now operating at Changsha. The process is simple. The beans are soaked and then crushed between two stones. The crushed mass is allowed to run off into a tub and is the strained thru cheesecloth and diluted with water and boiled. After boiling, it is again strained and the white milk run off into bottles and sold to the factory's customers. The operation takes place during the night, the milk being ready for the consumer in the morning.—The Argonaut.

Looking into the crater of Kilauea, Hawaii's volcano, at night. Kilauea's crater at night presents a wonderful sight. The spots, or splashes, are between fifty and seventy feet high. The camera is looking directly down upon them. The whole mass undulates, but owing to the rapid cooling the surface stays black with the exception of the movement when the mass breaks into crevices.

Minneapolis, Nov. 2.—More than one million bushels of Canadian wheat were purchased yesterday and today at the Minneapolis chamber of commerce by local milling and elevator interests at lower prices, freight and duty paid, than was being paid for American wheat of the same quality.

"If the ruling price differences remain, more Canadian wheat is likely to come here," said Hoyt Woodward, of one large elevator concern.

ITALIAN TROOPS PULL HEAVY GUNS UP HIGHEST ALPS

This interesting photograph, which shows Italian artillerymen hauling a giant howitzer up a mountain pass in the Tyrolean Alps, gives a clear idea of the greatest military obstacle which the forces fighting in that theatre of the war have had to contend with. When it is considered that all heavy artillery had to be hauled up the steep mountain passes in this manner, it is remarkable that any extensive artillery actions were attempted.

HERE IT IS! FIRST ACTUAL PHOTOGRAPH OF BRITISH "TANK" IN UNITED STATES

This is the British armored "tank" or caterpillar tractor, the last word in the modern machinery of war. Although artists have drawn from description numerous pictures of the British land-dreadnaught during the past few weeks, this is the first picture of the "tank" to reach this country. The steel protected monster crosses streams, climbs hills, veritably leaps chasms and mows down hundreds as it is guided on its way.

SURE OF TWO STATES READY FOR POOR

Hughes Confident of Results in Ohio and Indiana.

Batavia, Nov. 2.—Chas. E. Hughes declared today before an audience here that he is entirely confident of the result in both Ohio and Indiana. "I have returned from a trip thru Ohio and Indiana," he said, "with a profound sense of gratification and entire confidence with respect to the result in both states. In both Ohio and Indiana it is not exaggerating to say that I had receptions which perhaps exceeded those accorded to any other presidential candidate."

"That was of course as I said last night, not a tribute to me personally, but it was indication of the deep interest the people are taking in the essential conditions of their prosperity and their satisfaction that there is a great reunited Republican party ready for service at this critical time."

MANY HAVE VOTED

Thousands Already Cast for Tuesday's National Election.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Several thousand votes already have been cast in next Tuesday's election. Several thousand more will be cast before that day. The greater part of them are the votes of soldiers, stationed on the border, taking advantage of their own states' vote by mail or wire laws.

Today 4,000 Minnesotans are exercising their franchise by wire, it was estimated at the war department. Before Saturday various home precincts in North Dakota will have heard from the boys on the border.

CONFIDENTIAL EXCHANGE MOBILIZES TO FIGHT POVERTY

Thirty-One Co-operating Agencies Throat Topeka.

"This is the Confidential Exchange talking."

The above sentence, the stock telephone greeting of Miss Mabel Adams, secretary of the exchange, was repeated more than fifty times Wednesday and today as Topeka charitable organizations eager to mobilize against winter-poverty in Topeka, began calling up the exchange, which opened Wednesday.

In addition to calls from all of the thirty-one co-operating agencies of the exchange, there were many calls from individuals asking for "Thanksgiving families."

Charity is starting off with vim. Instead of waiting for the last minute before asking the exchange for a family to help, several persons and organizations are getting the names of families in distress now, with the purpose of becoming acquainted with their important needs.

"The old hit-or-miss charity, which blooms only at Christmas or Thanksgiving is passing away," Miss Adams said today.

"There is a growing tendency away from spasmodic charity and a real disposition toward careful consideration and thru-the-year helpfulness in charity cases."

Following are the organizations which to date have signified their intention of working thru the exchange: Abbott, Mrs. S. H. (matron county jail), Alpha Assisi club, Day nursery, Fazel, John H. (Redden Mission), General dispensary, Golden Rule club, Y. W. C. A. Home Finding society, Juvenile court, Mizpah club (Presby. church), N. N. S. club, Pleasant Hour club, Pierson, Mrs. Kate E., poor commissioner (county), Provident association, Public Health Nursing association, Relief committee Lowman Methodist church, Salvation Army, Sanitary department, Spalding, county, Social Service club, Federation of Colored clubs, Topeka Industrial council, tuberculosis clinic, U and I club, Volunteer class (Euclid Methodist church), M. S. M. society (Central Congregational church), P. E. O. society, W. C. T. U., Mrs. Malone, city welfare worker, Mrs. McGrath, (police matron, city prison).

Difficulties of English.

I asked an Italian who speaks correct English which language his children learned to write more readily, Italian or English.

"Italian," said he. "Your English words don't sound the way they look."

To show what this poor man had in mind, I shall quote some suggestions given to me by one of the most famous scholars, philosophers and professional men in America. They show what a curlicue language English is:

If daughter equals dawter and daughter equals dawter why does not daughter equal dawter?

Put it vice versa, and if laughter is lafter, why is not daughter dafter and laughter slafter?

Enough is enuff, but cough is not cuff. However, if cough is cawf, shouldn't enough be enawf?

Plough is pronounced plow and bough bow, but cough is not cow.

Moreover, a little Italian knowing that cough is pronounced cough is liable to spell the cup of morning beverage cough-phoe.—(Girard, in Philadelphia Public Ledger.)
